The ninth commandment says that we should not bear false witness against our neighbor. Often this commandment is summarized as a command not to lie. That is helpful, but the commandment is about more than that. Like all the commandments in Scripture, this one reflects the character of God and is for our good. Today we'll spend some time exploring what the ninth commandment says and how it applies to us today.

The ninth commandment...

1. Promotes justice for all people
2. Recognizes the harmful power words can have
3. Calls for truth in all circumstances
4. Invites speech that brings help and healing
