Today We Learned:

In the early days of the church, Paul worked hard to stop people from telling others about Jesus. While traveling, a bright light suddenly came from heaven, and he fell to the ground. He heard a voice ask, "Why are you against Me?" Paul replied, "Who are You, Lord?" The voice responded, "I am Jesus." He was afraid. Paul was instructed to go into the city and wait for further instructions. When he opened his eyes, he realized he was blind. The men who were traveling with Paul led him into the city. God then spoke to a man named Ananias, and told him to help Paul. Ananias found Paul and said, "Jesus sent me to help you." After Ananias laid his hands on him, Paul's could see again. He was baptized and began proclaiming, "Jesus is the Son of God!" The people were amazed that he, once an enemy of Jesus, had become a follower.
