Noah's Ark and The Great Flood.

Genesis 6-9

THE THREE T's

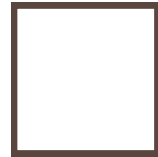

Draw a check mark when

Today We Learned:

After the flood, Noah's sons and their wives had children, and all their families grew. The people said, "We want to always live together. Let's build a city with a tall tower so tall that it touches the sky! Then everyone will know how great we are." But God is the greatest. God had told the people to spread out across the earth. The people did not obey God. They made bricks out of clay. Then they used the stones to start building the tower. God came down to look at the tower. God said, "If they are doing this together, they will think of more bad things to do. We need to stop them." So God mixed up the people's words so everyone spoke different languages. The people were confused and could not understand each other. They had to stop building the city. God made it so the people did just what He had told them to do after the flood: They were spread out all over the world. The city with the unfinished tower was called Babel.
